Catherine Quinlan is Vice President, AI Ethics at IBM. In this role, Cathy is responsible for developing guidance on compliance and strategy on a global basis for new and upcoming regulations around emerging technologies, such as AI and biometrics. Prior to accepting this role, Cathy held a variety of roles within the IBM Law Department as an attorney and her experience is varied, including technology licensing, product counseling, open source, marketing and advertising, privacy, employment, and regulatory compliance. Cathy is a member of the New York State Bar, is admitted to the Supreme Court of the United States of America and the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York.